

My family and and many of my friends listen to Klove. It is an inspiring station and the music and messages strenghten me and help me get through each day. In a world where there is so much negativity and immorality, KLove is a breath of fresh air with their message of hope and love. Many I know, including myself, depend on this station each day. As a society, the message is taken into our workplaces, on the streets, into our families and this uplifting of our spirits is taken to those places and spread around, and I know in my personal life, I spread this joy to all those around me.

Thank you for this opportunity to share my views. God Bless You
